How to read this timetable

- All times use the 24-hour clock and local Shiraz time.
- Working day and Weekend / holiday follow the service categories printed in the supplied timetable.
- Trains are scheduled at 15-minute intervals.
- Use the direction heading that matches your destination: Toward Ehsan or Toward Shahid Dastgheyb.
- In each detailed table, the hour is shown in the first column and the departure minutes are shown in the second. Example: 06: 10, 25, 40, 55 means 06:10, 06:25, 06:40, and 06:55.
- Operational changes may occur. Arrive a few minutes early and check station notices.

Back to line orderData notes

- Working-day departure sequences are based on the station pages in the supplied timetable.
- The source prints first and last weekend/holiday services; the detailed weekend/holiday rows in this document are generated at the same 15-minute interval between those printed endpoints.
- The website journey planner uses the same station offsets and timetable model as this document.
- For route-duration estimates, adjacent stations average approximately two minutes, while the published station offsets are used where available.

Last document revision: 29 July 2026.

Line 2 timetable and station status

Partial-service line: The complete planned route contains 13 stations, but only the Ghahremanan–Imam Hossein section currently has a modeled regular passenger timetable. Planned stations remain listed for network completeness.

Important service notes

- Times use the 24-hour clock and local Shiraz time.
- Line 1 data is reconstructed from the supplied station timetable.
- Line 2 data is a practical planning model based on the available start times, headway, operating window, and current active section.
- The website supports English and Persian; Persian mode uses RTL layout and Persian numerals.
- Maintenance, events, fleet availability, and station openings can change service. Arrive early and check station notices.
